ABOUT

TMG Consulting, an RIA Company, is welcoming undergraduate and graduate students to apply for scholarships to attend the 2024 TMG Utility Forum, October 23-24, 2024, in Denver, CO. The theme of this year's Forum is focused on the utilities approach to AI and future applications within the industry.

The TMG Utility Forum Next Generation Student Scholarship Initiative is an excellent learning opportunity for students seeking future opportunities in energy and environmental study-related careers. The scholarship gives students the chance to get in front of utility professionals from across the U.S. and beyond and to be exposed to cutting-edge information and best practices from those currently doing the work in the industry.

The overall purpose of this initiative is to give back to the next generation in the way of providing them the opportunity to meet prospective employers and mentors and provide them with timely hands-on information they may not have access to otherwise.

REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must be currently enrolled in a college or university in Colorado or surrounding states and be seeking a degree in an energy or environmental-related field of study. The students must complete an online application and submit it by the given deadline. The TMG Events Team will review and score the applications and select a specific number of recipients. Must be 21 or older. Deadline for submittals is September 8.

BENEFITS

The scholarship winner will receive:

- Complimentary registration to the 2024 TMG Utility Forum, October 23-24, 2024, at the Curtis Hotel in downtown Denver, CO.
- Recognition during the Opening Plenary.
- Announcement of the scholarship in a press release and on TMG's social media platform.
- Opportunity to participate in a small meet and greet with other scholarship winners, TMG staff, and a few select industry professionals.
- A mentor assigned to them during the Forum to help answer any questions they may have or help introduce them to others at the conference.
